A Little of This and That in - - OUR TOWN

Curfew Critic

City authorities and the town in general were given a thorough lambasting by Kenneth L. Peterson, of Ann Arbor, in his letter to the Avalanche published a week ago in these columns.

Mr. Peterson doesn't like our new curfew law. He decries it as something "at first thought ridiculous."

He gave forth with this specific denunciation in his very first paragraph which led us to believe he would repent somewhat, as he went on, in coming up with some further, less violent thought in the matter.

But no, the gentleman refused to yield. He insisted to the bitter end that juvenile curfew enforcement is a monster of repression; that it is unthinkable for parents and their children to be encompassed by a regulatory law, and that a Communistic trend is surely upon us when we think "the state can rear the child better than the home."

Come now, Mr. Peterson, it isn't that bad. Even in our saner moments we do not accept this curfew law as a perfect instrument. Nor do we take it as a cure-all. It is accepted, however, as a pretty big help in lining up the ne'er-do-wells for whom laws are always necessary, be they children or grown ups.

As for Mr. Peterson's statement that the curfew law "is an imposition upon the integrity of every parent," we must remind him that the greatest impetus for enactment of our curfew law came from such a fine organization as the Grayling Parent-Teacher Association. Their plea was given much and thoughtful consideration by the city council.

Enactment of the curfew brought no social upheaval in the community. Parents and their children who never needed a curfew to insure domestic tranquility continue to be well-ordered families with no late-hour problems. So, the curfew doesn't bother them.

Where the proper parental control has ceased to exist, and children are left to their own devices, then in justice to society as a whole, a substitute control must be established. Law enforcement in this case isn't more interested in the wayward juvenile being in his home than it is in making sure that the general public is protected from his maraudings.

But the law knows that a wayward, damage-bent minor, safely ensconced in his home, is that much less of a threat to good order in the community.

When Mr. Peterson suggests that laws already exist to combat delinquency and crime, he adds nothing to our fund of knowledge. And when he states, further, that lawmakers imply that laws will be broken if the liberty of some of its citizens is curbed, he ignores the fundamental concept of a law.

No law is ever made without a penalty for violation attached thereto. Every law-making body, then, does imply that every law it makes will be violated.

Any law, of necessity, restricts liberty in some sense, to insure a more equitable liberty for all. Take for instance the voluminous code of traffic laws. Motorists who are only some of the citizens; yet, on the highway no motorist is free to exercise every liberty. He is reminded at all times to keep within restrictions set up to guarantee the safety of others.

But all motorists don't obey the laws. So, despite Mr. Peterson's reasoning in the matter of the imposition of restrictive laws, you and I must accept every motorist as a potential delinquent and menace to our welfare.

There is just the one statement in the critical letter, however, to which we must take violent exception. The point is extremely far-fetched, we believe, when the author accuses the curfew of being "another step toward the conclusion that the state can rear the child better than the home."

Frankly, Mr. Peterson, a curfew exists for the sole purpose of getting the juvenile into his home so he can get the benefit of the proper rearing there.

What is possibly the most extensive application of a curfew law is that imposed by the State Liquor Commission on all drinking places, without exception.

This one is for the grown-ups who, it would seem, must be reminded just as effectively as the younger members of the family, that eventually there is always a time to go home.

Over 300 View Rose Bowl Movies

Michigan's champion grid stars performed to an overflow crowd Monday evening at the Grayling High School Auditorium when Grayling Alumni of the University of Michigan presented colored movies of the Rose Bowl game.

Professor Howard Livey of the University's Physical Education Department brought the movies to Grayling and was introduced to the crowd of more than 300 by Eugene Lawler. Professor Livey gave an interesting and highly amusing talk before launching into a narration of the movies which were screened by Joseph Stripe.

The reel which ran about 50 minutes was in full color and very clear. Both the great offensive and defensive Wolverine eleven were in action. The strong play of such Michigan stars as Chappius, Mann, Ford, Kempthorn, Elliott, Dworsky, Yerges, Fonde and many others was clearly shown.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Harry Aldrich, Regional Director of the Conservation Department was the main speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held Monday evening at the Michelson Memorial Church.

Mr. Aldrich was introduced by Earl R. Burns, who was in charge of the program, and talked on the recent change in the handling of the conservation problems in the field.

He explained the need for the switch in handling affairs of the department due to the huge increase in their work.

Willard Cornell was honored by the club and was presented with a gift. Frank Bond and T. P. Peterson spoke briefly on Coach Cornell's record at the Grayling High School.

His retirement is a distinct loss to the school, but, in gain for private business in our community," said one of the speakers.

Prof. Howard Livey of the University of Michigan was a guest of the club. Professor Livey, who is evening news, showed the colored movies of last year's Day Rose Bowl football game.

News of Lansing

From the Desk of Representative Emil A. Peltz

The Special Session of the Legislature adjourned. This is my final report. I made up my mind a week ago that I would not write this column until after the final hour of adjournment, knowing all well that it might have to be done in the early hours of the following morning.

As anticipated, the session did not adjourn until 5 A. M. this morning even though the final adjournment date was officially set for yesterday. As usual the clock was stopped and we continued on until the work was completed.

After twenty-two hours of constant deliberations and maneuvering I am very tired and after writing this article will tuck myself away to sleep for I don't know how long.

We have concluded a very incomplete session and it is difficult for me to list here any real accomplishments. The Governor in a special message at 10:30 last night expressed in no uncertain terms his disappointment with the Legislature's action during this session.

I share the disappointment with him and personally expressed to him my congratulations on his comments. I feel as he does, that for the most part my efforts were in vain. The Governor and many of us have tried hard, and worked diligently to enact legislation that would materially benefit the people of Michigan.

Through the weeks of this session we carefully nursed this legislation along only to have it snuffed out in the final hours. It is disappointing to say the least. We are sharing the feeling that a much better job could have been done if the Senate members had stayed at home. Too much good sound legislation was blocked by that body, and they alone are responsible for blocking the Governor's program.

A well written search and seizure bill for the Conservation Department was passed by the House and presented to the Senate. That body scrapped the bill during the last hours of the session and brought out their own bill which was rather carelessly drawn but had to be passed in order to provide protection to our fish and wildlife. There was not enough time left to force our own bill.

We, of the House, attached an amendment to the capital outlay appropriation bill to provide $5,000,000 as an emergency grant to the County Road Commissions during the next year. The entire bill with the amendment died in the Senate at the last minutes of the session. The leaves the County Road Commissions without any aid and also stops all building construction in the State until such time as the Legislature meets again, which means that another session must be called to complete the work.

I did succeed in passing House Bill No. 35, which will permit townships to turn over to County Road Commissions any balance in their treasury which is not needed for the construction or maintenance of roads within the townships and to levy a tax for that purpose up to the 15 mill limitation. Under the bill this can be handled entirely by the township boards.

My pet bill, to revise the weight tax on commercial vehicles of the heavy type which would have added about $5,000,000 to the highway revenue, could not be completed due to the fact that the Governor submitted it too late. It was felt that there was not sufficient time left to give such an important measure proper consideration.

Our Committee on Roads and Bridges brought it out on the floor where it was discussed for quite some time. I am happy to report that they agreed that these most responsible for the breaking up of our roads, must in the future expect to pay their just share of our highway expense. We have succeeded in paying the way for a price increase on the subject during the next session.

Because of my interest in this matter and because of the large amount of work that I have done in this connection, I was again chosen as one of a committee of six to make a further study of the highway needs and finances and report to the next legislative session.

In checking over the box score of accomplishments during this session, I find that most of the important bills were scrapped while some of the less important were passed. Legislation requires patience, and perhaps it is well that the wheels of democracy move slowly.

As I look out toward the eastern sky and see the beautiful sunrise I am reminded of the fact that at this time many of you are on your way to your favorite trout stream. Right now my only ambition is to sleep. The Governor is about to head for sunny Florida, and when I awaken I will prepare to head back home to good old northern Michigan.

DISTRICT NURSES TO MEET—There will be a meeting of the Grayling District Nurses Association on Monday, May 10, at the T. B. Snodgrass at 8:00, at 8 P. M. Movies on T. B. will be shown. This will also be election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Whiting returned from spending the winter in Lansing on Monday.

Home Extension Achievement Day Planned

Achievement Day for the Home Extension groups of the county will be held at the Grange Hall, May 11, from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. A luncheon will be put on by Past Matrons of the Eastern Star in the Masonic Temple for members of the group who have made reservations. Mrs. June Gross and several of her students will provide entertainment and lead group singing.

Each group chairman is asked to have their display for their group at the Grange Hall by Monday evening at 8 P. M.

All members are urged to attend and the public is cordially invited.

Maple Forest

The T. N. T. Club have planned a hard-time dance and pie social for Saturday, night May 8, at the Town Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Lake Orion were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hummel.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. E. Feldhauser celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary. About 40 relatives gathered at their home for a potluck dinner. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldhauser and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Feldhauser and sons from Down River; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Feldhauser, from Lovells; Mrs. Albert Knibbs from Grayling, and the Robert and Charles Feldhauser families here.

Miss Gloria was home from C. M. C. so all their children were here for the day with the exception of their oldest son, Edward, who lives near Ritter, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Verlinde were guests at a dinner Sunday in honor of the opening of "Marion Coffee Bar," in the Super Service Garage (Jay Wilcox's) at Frederic.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Parsons of Royal Oak spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Parsons. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Greenwell have been here in their new home, the former Carl Richter farm, for a month now and are nicely settled.

Mrs. J. Wm. Smith was hostess to Home Extension Club 1 last Tuesday afternoon. Most of the members plan to go to Grayling, May 11 for Achievement Day. A new member, Mrs. Ray Johnston, has been added to the list, making a membership of 15 ladies now.

Mrs. L. Jensen and Mrs. H. Moon from the Hartwick Pines served a delicious lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Feldhauser of Pontiac spent the week end with the Robert Feldhausers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dobson came to spend the week end at their home here with the Don Dobsons. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Allison were here also.

Don't forget the T. N. T. Hard-Time Dance and Pie Social, Saturday night. Wear your old clothes and ladies all bring a pie to be auctioned. Everyone welcome.

(Too Late for Last Week) Maurice Babbitt drove to Morley last Friday to get his wife, who had been visiting her sister. Her nephew, Bernie Smith, returned with them to spend a couple of weeks here. Mrs. Richard Babbitt accompanied Maurice as far as Leroy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henig and Virginia Henig of Royal Oak called on Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Parsons Saturday. Mrs. Henig and Miss Virginia are spending a couple of weeks at their farm near Frederic.

Speaks Here

Rev. Don Winters of Massillon, Ohio, will be speaking each evening at 8 in Calvary Baptist Church, beginning Tuesday, May 11th, continuing through Wednesday, May 23rd. The public is cordially invited.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

The Hospital Aid will observe National Hospital Day with an open house and Silver Tea at the Nurses Home on May 12, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

Lovells Notes

Mr. and Mrs. W. Foss together with several friends from Ann Arbor spent the week end at their cabin on Big Creek. They expect to return soon as Mrs. Korenko will be doing the cooking for her son, Bill, at his new place of business.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Loftus and son, Mike, of Saginaw spent a few days visiting at the latter's parental home, the E. Kelloggs.

Mrs. J. T. Stillwagon and daughter Jeanine, returned to Plymouth last Tuesday after spending a few days at their home down river. They drove to Bay City where Jake had some business. Love actions to be made, but returned the same day.

Mrs. C. Stillwagon spent a few days in Bay City visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Clark, who is a patient in Mercy Hospital. The many friends of Mrs. Clark will be glad to know she seems to be getting along as well as can be expected, and was so pleased to be remembered by so many Lovells friends with lovely cards and flowers.

A big crowd attended the dance Saturday night at the Town Hall. All invited every Saturday night. Miss Marguerite Husted returned home to West Branch, having spent a couple of weeks in Lovells assisting at the Douglas Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerchenko spent a few days at their home in Detroit. All are invited to attend and help in the Sunday school work. We are glad to report having an attendance of thirty-three this last Sunday. Let's try to reach the fifty mark this month. Come and help in this worthy cause.

It has been requested there be a meeting held at the school house next Monday evening, May 10, in regards to the building of our chapel. All interested in this are invited to attend. We are anxious to see the building completed while it is nice weather.

Mr. Creith and daughter, Janet, of Saginaw spent the week end at the Douglas Hotel.

Community Meet Called May 14

A meeting of members of the Dawn Patrol and Rededication committee will be held in a joint session with the directors of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening, May 14, at 7:30 P. M. at the Court House.

The committee in charge of the Dawn Patrol was made up of representatives from most every group, club and organization in the city. Following the completion of their work, the idea of a permanent community council to sponsor and carry out community promotions was advanced.

Clubs who did not have a member present for the other meetings are being contacted again to send a representative to this meeting. Discussions will be held as to the worth of forming such a committee that night.

Anyone interested in any way the question is urged to attend and set forth their views on the proposal.

Final Rites For Mrs. Lee Widman

Services were held at Michelson Memorial Church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock for Elizabeth A. Widman, who passed away very suddenly at Mercy Hospital, May 3 at 4 o'clock following a two week illness. Rev. R. C. Puffer officiated and interment was in the Riverside Cemetery at Alma, Michigan. Music at the services was presented by Mrs. C. G. Clippert.

Mrs. Widman's death comes as a distinct shock to the host of friends she had made since coming to Grayling only a few years ago. She was a leader and her absence will be keenly felt in the many organizations in which she was so vitally a part. She will be most especially missed by the young people as she has been a faithful teacher in the Michelson Memorial Church Sunday School and a Girl Scout Troop leader.

In tribute, her Scout Troop attended the funeral services in a body. Betty as she was called by her friends was also very active in the Woman's Club.

She was born in Alma, Michigan, September 28, 1911 to Franklin P. and Bertha Hurst and resided in that city and Detroit, St. Louis, Grand Rapids, East Lansing and Indianapolis, Indiana before her marriage. She was a graduate of Alma College and also attended the University of Michigan. Previous to the war she spent a summer in Italy. During the war she took a special course in engineering that enabled her to train girls in this work. Her training also made it possible for her to work with her husband, Lee E. Widman in the U. S. Geological Survey in Grayling, Lansing and Indianapolis.

The couple were married in Highland Park, Michigan, November 18, 1944. Previous to her marriage she also taught mathematics in the Grand Haven High School. She was very active in church work in that city.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Bertha Hurst of Lansing (Mrs. Hurst was an English teacher in Alma High School for 25 years) and two sisters, Miss Louise Hurst of Lansing and Mrs. Shaw of Detroit.

Among the relatives and friends here for the services from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Widman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Widman, Miss Kay Widman of Detroit; A. D. Ash, P. Pettengill, N. Billings and H. Hardenburg of Lansing.

Mr. Widman has the sincere sympathy of all in the loss of a fine wife and companion.

John Bruun returned to Grayling last Thursday, after ten weeks spent in Denmark, Sweden, Germany, France, Belgium, England and Ireland. Mr. Bruun landed in New York April 24 and visited friends in that city en route home.

300-FOOT PEA-SHOOTER-FOR TORPEDOES...High in the fastness of California's Sierra Madre mountains the U.S. navy has developed and constructed what is probably the world's largest pea-shooter. Pictured above, the 300-foot tube, fired by compressed air, was built to launch naval torpedoes into Morri's lake for exhaustive tests by naval operators. The torpedoes were launched in this peaceful little lake then were fired by the Japanese during the entire course of World War II.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion
Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Emergency Board. But the union leaders want more. They demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified
Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?
Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and fireman for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15 1/2 cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Eternal Vigilance

"A Communist or Fascist party, under democratic systems, can lose a score of elections and continue to function freely," writes William Henry Chamberlain. "But let such a party win just one election, or somehow get its hands on the state authority without an election, and the pendulum stops right there. . . . For there are no more free elections. The people have no chance peacefully and legally to reconsider their verdict."

That is one way of saying that a people must always be vigilantly alert if it is to be saved from tyranny. A single failure, a single misstep, and the organized forces of dictatorship will destroy a country's liberties as completely as if they had never existed. These forces are expert at boring from within. They make small gains here and other small gains there. They talk reassuringly of democracy and liberty and the welfare of the common man in order to hide their true intentions. Then, when the chance arises, they strike with blinding speed.

We have seen this boring from within in the United States. It is found in efforts—some of them successful—to socialize our industries, to create labor strife, to build up enormous bureaucracies, to place more and more authority over individual affairs in the hands of the state, to substitute a government of decree and fiat for a government of law. Add all these things up, and the pattern by which dictatorship can be established becomes clear. And it is all done for the so-called "common man"—whoever he may be—and he pays.

Remember, once freedom is lost it can only be regained through war or revolution—regained at a terrible cost in lives and treasure. Remember John Philip Curran's phrase: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." No greater truth was ever said.

A local chapter of Izaak Walton League was organized for Crawford County last evening at the Board of Trade rooms with a charter membership of about 30 members. The newly born organization will be known as the Reuben S. Babbitt chapter named in honor of our well known and highly esteemed citizen and game warden.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacNeven went to Saginaw last Friday and on their return drove back a brand new Buick sedan.

Mrs. John Horan, who has been in Bay City the past three months, returned to Grayling last week and is again in charge of the Shoppensagon Inn dining room.

Mrs. George Wendt and children returned last Saturday to their home in Bay City, after a several weeks visit here. Charles Wilbur, Mrs. Wendt's father, accompanied them returning the next day.

Walter Shaw and a party of friends motored up from Detroit and spent Saturday fishing in some of his old haunts. While here they were guests of Walter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Shaw.

Miss Coletta Smith left last Friday for Kansas City, Missouri, to attend a railway clerks convention. Miss Smith will be away about 15 days and during her absence, Mrs. Ollie McLeod is acting as ticket clerk at the depot.

A fire started from the furnace of Olaf Sorenson and Sons store occurred this noon doing slight damage to the structure. A pretty stiff wind was blowing and without the quick and efficient aid rendered by the fire department a pretty serious conflagration might have resulted.

Dr. Pool is having about 250 Norway Spruce set out about his house (the former Palmer home), for a hedge. Henry Bauman is arranging to plant a similar border.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sammons, Monday.

Jerry Sherman and Oscar Smith, doing business under the firm name of Sherman and Smith, have taken over the auto livery business of Jess Schoonover.

Alfred Hanson, Mrs. Herluf Sorenson, Mrs. Emma Knibbs, Mrs. Joseph McLeod, Miss Annabel McLeod and Miss Anna Peterson of Gaylord motored to Cadillac Sunday to attend a Mooseheart Legion frolic.

Mrs. P. P. Mahoney was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends Tuesday evening, the occasion being a farewell party as the Mahoney family expect to leave soon to make their home in Bay City.

A daughter was born Monday, May 4th, to Mr. and Mrs. Sletus St. Pierre. She has been named Donna Lee.

Dr. Clarence G. Clippert of Detroit arrived in the city this week to assume a partnership with Dr.

C.F.R. Keyport, the new firm to be known as Drs. Keyport and Clippert. Dr. Clippert is a graduate of Rush Medical College, Chicago, later finishing a two year course at Harper Hospital, Detroit, and recently has been associated with Dr. C. D. Brooks, one of Detroit's best known physicians. Dr. Clippert is accompanied by his wife, who has recently been instructor of vocal music at Detroit Conservatory of Music and also director of one of the largest church choirs in Detroit. They will occupy the A. M. Lewis home on Michigan for the summer.

New Owners Open
Wayside Inn

Charles and Helen Kovach last Saturday, reopened the Wayside Inn on M-93 at Lake Margrethe. The couple purchased the Inn from George Morrison after it was closed January 1.

The bar has been completely remodeled and redecorated and the main room has been considerably enlarged. A rustic note has been captured at the Wayside by the use of pine paneling in the bar room. Mr. and Mrs. Kovach are the former owners of the Bottle Fence Gardens at Waters.

WAIT FOR THE DIAL TONE

1. Pick up the receiver and listen before starting to dial.
2. If the dial tone is delayed wait until you hear that steady hum-m-m.
3. When you hear the dial tone, dial the number carefully.

THAT dial tone is mighty important. It means that the switching equipment in the telephone central office is ready to handle your call. If you dial before you hear it, you'll get a wrong number or no number at all.

Right now there are times when the dial tone is delayed. That's because central office facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before . . . even more than during the busiest war years. And material shortages prevent us adding equipment as fast as we'd like.

But this situation is only temporary. We will restore service to normal as quickly as enough dial equipment can be provided.

Meantime, please remember to listen for the dial tone before you dial.

It make them physically fit, fit for good jobs and good citizenship? These are what parents and teachers must insist on, says Dr.
William F. Russell, Dean of Teachers College, Columbia University and one of America's leading educators. In Redbook Magazine for April he tells how youths between 16 and 24 are dangerously idle, while for ten years
major commissions and committees have pictured significant social changes that are responsible.

"The first point of agreement
in these various reports is that we are living in a period of profound and rapid social change. We are moving with increased acceleration from rural farm, small-handicraft economy into an industrialized society, with great production, short hours of labor, much leisure. The Youth Commission found that unemployment was three times as high proportionally among the 16-24 age group as among the 40-44. Such unassimilated youth constitute a danger to any society.

"The second point of agreement
was recognition of the decision taken by the American people that education is for all American youth. There were about 80,000 pupils in American high schools
in 1870; now there are well over 7,000,000.

"If we accept the decision of the majority of the people, what sort of education should all high school give? What should we taxpayers insist upon so that we can assure ourselves that even if we put up a lot of money, we can be confident that its expenditure is wisely made?

"The first goal for all American youth may be called job conditioning. Our boys and girls have to become contributing members of our community. Educational and industrial leaders are coming to believe that work experience, actual participation in some sort of gainful occupation, should begin in school for a great many pupils. That means alternating work, in school and out, morning and afternoon, or day by day, or week by week, or for longer periods; and programs of the type made famous at Antioch College and the University of Cincinnati are being introduced into many high schools — school work tied to a job made significant in the light of a job.

"The second goal for all American youth is better health. About half of our boys were turned down by selective service, and a lot of the cause was attributed to conditions that could have been avoided — bad teeth, malnutrition, hernias, heart conditions, nervous maladjustment. If half our youth are not well enough to fight, how well prepared are they for the battle of life?

"We put up the money for uniforms for the football team and the band, but we object to school clinics, school lunches, school doctors and education in habits of health. It does not seem to us to ignore health problems, to overlook remediable defects, and to fail to correct them.

"Some call the third goal better citizenship; others better human relations; others, school and community activities. It means that the school should be a part of a community; that young people,
while in their formative period
should come to sense their responsibility to their friends and neighbors; that the school should do its full share in making life better.

"They must learn to cherish our democratic form of representative government and to make its principles concrete in their home town. They must help to clean up the town; they must guarantee liberty to their fellows; they must treat minority groups justly. We need Boy Scouts for higher ages;
and Nurses' Aids for younger years. Good government, like charity, begins at home. I even think that our boys and girls must become good people, with good morals and high ideals, and able to do something constructive with their idle time."

Michelson Memorial Church News

The quarterly conference was held at Michelson Memorial Church, April 25. Dr. Frank Field of Saginaw, District Superintendent of the Saginaw Bay District was present.

Financial reports were given.
The reports indicated that the church was in good condition.
Rev. Puffer was asked to serve as minister for another year. He reported that 31 new members have joined the church during the past year and eleven babies were baptized.

SHORT STORY

That Smelly Old Pipe

By
FRANCES DAVIDS

WITH the air of a deeply wounded man, Henry Little put on his coat and hat and stalked out of the house, slamming the door. He could take snubs on his person, but there was one thing on which he drew the line. He couldn't take insults to that faithful old companion,
that sympathetic friend, that trusted comforter and unfailing cheer-upper, his pipe.

Up to now Sarah's hints hadn't bothered him, but this morning she had ceased to hint. "How long," she had demanded tartly, "am I going to have to stand it?"

Henry's small, buttony brown eyes behind the pale plastic-rimmed spectacles noted the headlines
with interest. "Bandit Holds Up Another Local Store." Well, well. The police still hadn't caught the fellow, and this was the third holdup he had pulled.

"... and when I saw that hole in the rug, I wanted to scream."

"What?" he asked, guiltily, conscious that he had heard only part of Sarah's remarks.

"I said," she repeated exasperatedly, "I found a hole in the rug and ashes all over the sofa last night.
Now, what are you going to do about it?"

"Me? Why, er—nothing, I guess,"
he said lamely.

"You certainly are," she cried angrily. She wagged a threatening finger. "I'm tired of standing and ashes all over the place. Now you get rid of that smelly old pipe, Henry Little, or I'll get rid of it for you!"

Reaching the store he unlocked
the door and went in, put on his sweater and lit up his pipe. The brightly-labeled cans on the shelves,
the fresh fruits and vegetables, the dairy products, the household items,
all stood in their appointed places, like old friends. Today he would have to go through the stock and reprice some of the canned goods.

THE door opened and a stocky young man came in, dressed in a dark coat with the collar up about his ears and a slouch hat down over his eyes. Dressed rather warily for such a day, Henry thought. "Yes, sir, what can I do for you?" he asked pleasantly.

"Quiet in here today, isn't it?"
the man said.

"Very," Henry agreed.

"Then put up your hands, bud, and open up that cash register," the man
shouted, leveling a gun at Henry.

Henry almost fainted with surprise and shock. His knees rattled against each other, and he was powerless to move. "Come on, hurry up," the man said brusquely. The roof of Henry's mouth was so dry and parched he thought he would choke. What should he do? He Sarah sniffed disapprovingly.

couldn't fight with the man, who was younger and stronger—and besides, there was that ominous gun pointed at him.

With this terrible predicament facing him, he somehow noted that on the shelf a little beyond the bandit a can of pineapple juice was balanced precariously on another can and almost looked like it was going to fall. Henry watched it hopefully, and a wild, crazy idea formed in his mind.

Crash! The can fell to the floor, starting the thief so that he made an instinctive half-turn, and as he did so, Henry pulled out the pipe from his pocket and stuck it in the man's back. "Now put your hands up," he said hoarsely, and with-much menace as he could muster.

The gun fell to the ground with a thud and Henry dragged it over with his foot and picked it up. "Go out the door and into the store next door," he ordered, his hand trembling. In the barber shop next door
he told the astounded barber to call the police.

It was on the front page of the Evening Clarion:

"LOCAL MERCHANT FOILS BAN-DIT. USES PIPE AS GUN."
All evening long people kept calling and telephoning to congratulate Henry, and late that night he sank gratefully onto the sofa and took out his pipe. Sarah, who had just come in, sniffed disapprovingly. "Henry,
I—" She stopped short.

"Let me light it for you, dear,"
she said sweetly.

MRS. MILES, GUEST SPEAKER P. T. A.

Twenty six parents and teachers met at the High School last Wednesday evening at the regular P. T. A. meeting and enjoyed a very interesting and enlightening talk given by Miss Louise Miles, patient service director of the P. T. Sanatorium in Gaylord. Her talk was about what is being done to rehabilitate tuberculosis patients. Her definition of rehabilitation was the restoration of the handicapped, in mental, social and physical adjustments. Patients frequently enter the sanatorium with troubled minds and broken spirits. It is believed that "peace of mind" must come before and with the healing of the body. Family troubles are "coned out" for the patient whenever possible. Instruction in surgery, bed rest, etc., tells them what to expect in the way of treatment.

The average stay is 18 months and in 3 or 4 weeks after confinement the patient is given something to do. Occupational therapy is introduced. The patient's aptitudes are considered and "work" prescribed. All work at Gaylord is done at the bed side and is confined to simple crafts. Some sanatoriums have rooms with looms and other special equipment, however.

The patient's future is planned for, that is, what occupation would be suitable for them upon release. They are trained accordingly, based on local environment as to the availability in their future community of a job in the work they are to be fitted for. High school students carry on with their studies being taught at the bedside. Housewives are not neglected. They are given courses in short cuts to house keeping—enabling them to do their work and still take better care of themselves upon release.

Recently a sewing program with instructors was started at Gaylord. They have a new piece of equipment that consists of a table with a roll over a bed and has a sewing machine on it in such a way that the patient can sew in a sitting position in bed. Sewing, patching and making over old clothes is taught.

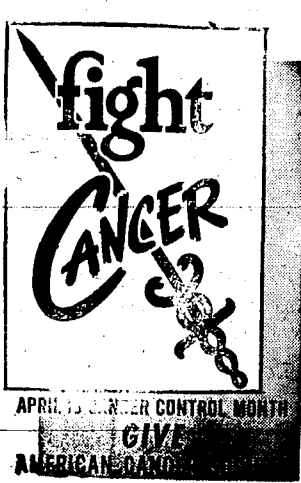

The spiritual side is not neglected. Church services are held. A magazine is published by the sanatorium once every two months. The patients do all the work on it with the exception of the actual printing.

The attitude of patients toward the program is especially fine. Before June, 1947, nothing of the sort had been undertaken in spirit. Miss Miles explained that it is better that the future of the patient be planned before they leave the sanatorium as frequently in the past they would return quite discouraged and broken in spirit. Cases in this service are never closed until the patient has once more found employment and even then they are free to call on the service for anything they feel they need. There is an out-patient clinic every Wednesday afternoon to which former inmates may come and discuss their problems.

Miss Miles also showed a movie that illustrates her talk and told several human interest stories.

During the business meeting preceding the program, Leroy Christian announced that the uniform committee had met and decided upon the type of uniforms to be purchased and bids from six sources are being considered, four of which have already been received. Measuring of the students will start soon and it is hoped the uniforms will be ready for fall. He also stated that there are 30 members in the junior band and they will play three numbers at the concert May 12, before the senior band plays.

Mrs. Howard Bunkel, Mrs. Eugene Papendick and Mrs. Robert Strong were appointed on the auditing committee. Eugene Lawler, Mrs. Earl Mathewson and John Schofield are a committee to investigate P. T. A. aid for college students.

Gingerbread and whipped cream and coffee were served in the home making room by the committee: Mrs. Svend Madsen, Mrs. Wes LaGrow, Mrs. Leo Lovely, Mrs. Howard Bunker, Mrs. Floyd McClain, Mrs. Beatrice Laux, Mrs. Eugene Lawler and Mrs. Svend Holm. The home making class furnished the centerpiece for the table. It was an arrangement of tinted pussy willows. Tea cup napkin holders were made and furnished by Mrs. Laux' fifth grade. Inside each one was the following verse:

Take time for work;
Take time for play;
Take time to come to P. T. A.
—Nuff said.

Asparagus Now At Best: Three Dishes

If you love asparagus, you can have it every day of the week because this is the season when it's cheapest and best, according to Alice Petersen, who gives you some tasty recipes for this superb vegetable in McCalls for May:

Asparagus Plain
Take 2 pounds of asparagus (this is enough for 4 real asparagus enthusiasts). Snap off the stalks where they break easily so you get only the tender part of the asparagus.

To clean, slip the point of a paring knife under all the triangular leaves all the way along the stalk and life each one off. That's where the sand lodges. Now lay the asparagus stand in lukewarm salted water 5 minutes, then rinse under running water to get all the sand. Lay asparagus in boiling, salted water in a skillet or large flat pan. Cook until just tender and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Bring to boiling point, then pour over with pancake turner, drain well and serve immediately with melted butter or one of the following sauces.

Mock Hollandaise. Mix up in a cup 4 tablespoons mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons lime juice. Place cup in a pan of hot water to heat sauce. When hot, pour over asparagus and serve at once.

Sour Cream Sauce. Mix together in a small saucepan 1 cup sour cream with 2 tablespoons salad oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Bring to boiling point, then pour over hot asparagus and serve immediately.

Asparagus, Chinese Style
2 cups finely sliced fresh asparagus
1 tablespoon salad oil
1/2 cup very finely diced pork
1 1/2 cups hot chicken consommé
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
Slice the asparagus into one-inch pieces. Then heat the salad oil in a skillet, add the very finely diced pork (one pork chop is enough) and cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Add the asparagus and cook for another minute. Finally add the consommé and soya sauce and cook 3 more minutes. Mix the cornstarch up with the water and stir until it is smooth. Add to the asparagus and pork and continue cooking, stirring constantly, until sauce has thickened and become clear. It should be served at once. This is extremely tasty and will serve 4 comfortably.

Asparagus and Cheese Casserole
1 bunch cooked or 1 No. can asparagus
1 cup grated American Cheddar cheese
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt

Dash black pepper
Start your oven at 340F or moderate. Cover the bottom of a shallow, medium-sized baking dish with half of the asparagus. Sprinkle half the cheese over this and add the rest of the asparagus and sprinkle remainder of cheese on top. Beat egg, beat in milk, salt and pepper. Mix this very well, then pour over the asparagus and cheese. Bake 15 minutes. Plenty for 6.

GRAYLING AIR SERVICE

DEALERS For SEABEE and LUSCOMBE
PHONE 2858 GRAYLING AIRPORT

Human nature and freedom of the press being what they are, it is inevitable that some of Kim Sigler's newspaper supporters now disagree with parts of his 1948 reform program.

Representative Elton R. Eaton, editor of the Plymouth Mail, differs with the governor on the proposal for power to hire and fire department heads and to scrap, in effect, control of state departments through the state administrative board.

It so happens that the administrative board was created by Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, early in the 20's, while Eaton was Groesbeck's executive secretary. Eaton says the board is just like a corporation board of directors and that the governor, as "chairman" of the board, has ample powers to get things done.

The Plymouth editor recalls that Groesbeck's power to hire and fire was used to oust Tom Johnson as state superintendent of public instruction, and that Groesbeck used the cry of "dictator" to upset Groesbeck at the next Republican primary.

Governor Sigler retorts that he has not power today to remove department heads or other state officials. "In order to, remove an official I have to prefer charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance," he told the press. "I do not believe in boards and commissions. He regards them as inefficient. He would like to reduce the present 100-plus state units to around 20.

Muri DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune, disagrees with the governor over a four-year term. His logic goes along something like this: When the state gets a pot Governor, two years is long enough to keep him. When the state gets a good governor, voters can keep him four years or longer by the simple method of re-electing him.

It is Mr. DeFoe's conviction that the Sigler proposal is more political than practical. The governor and other elective officials (and perhaps the legislators, if the amendment is revised to include them) would be elected in a non-presidential year, beginning in 1950. Michigan elected Democratic governors in the presidential years of 1932, 1936 and 1940; Republican governors have won every non-presidential year campaign since 1914.

The Lansing legislative situation has been interesting to watch for several reasons. Governor Sigler's reform program was presented to the legislature without much advance consultation with legislative leaders. The four-year term for the governor and other elective officials, for example, was linked to a similar term for county officials but not to members of the state legislature.

This now appears to have been a tactical error. Legislators were cool from the start. They warmed up to it reluctantly and only when political pressure was applied that the head of the party should get legislative support in a campaign year and that the amendments, after all, were going to the jury (the people) for final verdict.

After asking legislators to do something for the governor and nothing for themselves, Sigler further ruffled their pride by appearing before committees and warning members he would summon legislators back for another special session unless they submitted his program to the people. Other wise he would appeal to the people, circulate petitions, and get the amendments on the November ballot.

An Associated Press writer reported the Governor announced, well in advance, a slate of seven delegates-at-large for the state Republican convention in Detroit after he had assured the press that the gathering was to be "unbossed." Furthermore, the convention endorsement of proposed reforms was characterized by the A. P. as being "very lukewarm." Sigler's methods were said to be "amateurish."

ledger may be placed in bold letters his traits of high courage and intellectual integrity. He still is the idealist, the reformer, the knight battling for "better government." He delights in challenging the status quo.

The governor's troubles come largely from his zeal and impatience to get things done. By seeking more power for himself in order to achieve these reforms, he has antagonized a number of influential people in the party, including those in the legislature. Now that the legislative record is on the books, popular debate on the issues will get under way. The verdict will come in November.

Pineapple Marlow

1 cup evaporated milk
24 marshmallows
2 tablespoons water
8 large or 16 small graham crackers
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
3/4 cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
Chill evaporated milk in the refrigerator overnight or in a freezer tray for half an hour before whipping.
Melt marshmallows with water in double boiler. Crush graham crackers fine. Melt margarine or butter and mix into crumbs with tips of fingers. Take melted marshmallows off stove. Mix in pineapple juice, lemon juice and lemon rind. Whip chilled evaporated milk until thick as mayonnaise, then whip in marshmallow-juice mixture. Line the bottom of a refrigerator tray with cracker crumbs. Pour pineapple business over crumbs. Chill 2 hours. Serves 4.

In School at Feldhauser

Our school is fairly bursting with activity these days. We are filling Junior Red Cross boxes to send over seas, and find that an amazing number of things fit into those little cartons. We have had to hurry with our project to get it in before the April 30th deadline, the last shipment until fall.

On Friday, April 30th, the girls are staging a little circus. They are practicing hard on their various stunts and announce that refreshments will be five cents. Refreshments are free.

We are finishing the various 4-H projects that were started at the beginning of the year. Achievement Day is to be on Friday, May 7, in Freethie. Officials of the 4-H clubs in our district have promised us a full and interesting day. Those who are eligible to attend are: Carol Mikesell, Frank Lude, George Holman, Jim Stephan, Bob Stephan, Lewis Bushamp and Tommy Ward. We hope they enjoy their new location.

This poem is the first in a series about the students, it was adapted by Frances Bushamp.

LENG BROTHERS
FREDERIC, MICHIGAN

Oil has always been a subject for controversy... and because it is a commodity which affects the performance and cost of motoring, the public should know exactly which oil will best serve their individual needs. Oil chemistry gives scientists the answer but the average driver needs a simpler method. Your speedometer is a reliable guide to the selection of a safe oil. For those who rarely drive over 55 m.p.h. our R.O.C. oil gives excellent results... but for high, sustained speeds always get Northland motor oil. It is just that easy to be sure.
